2002 No record evidence of this corner has been found in the Benton County records.

2012 The Benton County Surveyor's Office found a cast iron monument at the intersection of centerlines north-south and east, on a fence line to the west and down 0.5 feet. Distances to corners in all four directions fit reasonably well. Since the cast iron monument falls at the intersection of long-standing occupation and distances appear reasonable, it is accepted as marking the obliterated corner position. The 2001 coordinates were verified.
